

You go chop am finish!

The logo repping Yettie's Cuisine is rather minimalist.

You can easily understand the thoughts that went into it's creation.

You go chop am finish!

The plate is colored brown after the popular Nigerian delicacy, Amala.

Amala is not made easily, it goes through a specific process, but in the end it is thoroughly enjoyed.

The fork and knife are arranged to form the letter Y; trademark of a good meal.

If you haven't had breakfast
yet, you should be considering this.

Why not Cuisines?

This is light on Yettie's local style. Cuisines is not wrong, but it would be an exaggeration.

A white silhouette of a fork is positioned on the left side of the image. A large, light-brown circular plate is centered in the background. A white silhouette of a knife is positioned on the right side of the image.

Why brown and not ?

As an african targeting an african market, going global is a cause to get closer to basics.

Ewedu is also on the menu!
