Why Do Dogs Smile? Dog Smiling Explained

You and your pup have a special connection—one that's built on love and trust, and that makes for a happy dog. And if she's happy, it only makes sense that she would smile, right? But is dog smiling really a thing?

Most dog owners probably have more than one picture of their dog smiling or doing something that appears to be eerily akin to a human smile. Whether it happens when your pet seems to be enjoying something, or it's totally out of the blue, pet owners who see their dogs "smiling" are probably pretty pleased with it.

Is Your Dog Overheating?

There is no denying it, summer is here. The heat is overwhelming, the insects are feasting, and the pool is a much-needed pastime.

7 Grey Cat Breeds

Cat lovers are likely to have their own preference when it comes to a favorite color for felines, we can all agree that there's just something.
